Subject: Microsoft settlement...

Microsoft used its monopoly position in the market to kill competitors and thereby hurt consumers. Microsoft MUST pay penalty for its illegal behavior in addition to being forcefully prevented from using its monopoly position. The only way that this could happen is if the company is broken up into 3 or more pieces (Operating system company, internet service company, game development company, application software company and more). Of these only one of the new company should be called Microsoft.

Thank you very much for accepting public comments regarding this landmark case.

Sincerely.
